

SURVIVOR SUCCESS STORY

"It seemed like it will never end, and I felt so alone and like I couldn't call anyone, until I remembered I had the Artemis Center. I am reminded every day I am strong; I do this for my daughter, and if I'm not here who is going to protect her? I truly owe the Artemis Center everything because if it wasn't for them, I wouldn't have my attorneys, I wouldn't have the support and help that I needed, and I probably would have given up on myself a long time ago. This is my in-progress success story, but I am not done. I am still fighting, but I am never alone."

Report to the Community

From the Executive Director

Survivors are the true definition of strength, resiliency, courage, and hope.

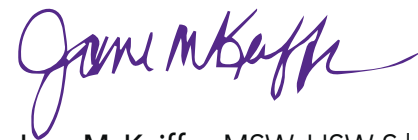

Survivors share their fears, dreams and accomplishments with us. They share how the fear of the unknown can be paralyzing, but they do go on to share how they overcame that fear. For some the answer is confiding in someone, calling an attorney, or coming to a support group at Artemis.

Sometimes after that scary first step our advocates hear, "Thank you for believing in me. I don't think I would have made it through (the process of getting a Civil Protection Order) without your help." Or "I feel a little better, and I know it comes with time, but I feel better in my soul. Thank you."

The staff at Artemis work from a client-centered, trauma informed approach, knowing each survivor has their own unique experience. This is why the advocates engage in detailed and individualized safety planning with each survivor.

In 2023, we added a mobile health advocate in partnership with Ohio Domestic Violence Network. This advocate works to increase survivors' access to healthcare services, education and information. We have partnered with Equitas Health to host the MOVE Health Center in the parking lot for easier access for survivors once a quarter.

We are so incredibly proud to serve alongside the many survivors who take courageous steps to increase their safety and their children's safety every day.

MISSION PARTNERS

Thanks to our Mission Partners, Artemis Center can continue to fulfill its mission.

For Love of Children (FLOC)

For Love of Children (FLOC) was an amazing resource for our clients throughout 2023. They have and continue to provide monthly "blessing bags" which contain food and toiletries that our advocates give to Artemis Center clients and their children. In August, they provided backpacks filled with essential school supplies so students could get a great start to their school year. FLOC also made a great impact on our Building Hope Holiday Program by providing toys and other gifts for participating families. They continue to help us provide for our client's needs, from the most basic like food, to special needs like Christmas gifts.

Synchrony

Synchrony has been an incredible partner and supporter of Artemis Center's mission. They continue to give their time and financial resources to support survivors that come through our doors. Synchrony has continued to be the presenting sponsor at our annual Breaking the Cycle Fundraising Breakfast, and their Women's Network has continued a new tradition of providing "Christmas Morning Kits" for Holiday Program participants. We regularly welcome Synchrony employees who volunteer their time at Artemis Center, who provide help in the form of administrative tasks and pantry organization. These volunteers are essential in maintaining a clean and well-organized space for advocates to "shop" for clients and their children.
